THESE ARE SAMPLES OF NEW CALIFORNIA
DESIGN WHICH PROVE THE POINT

California potters have few peers, as these examples testify. Large urn in foreground was executed by Sheldon Kaganoff. The pitcher and covered bowl are products of Gladding McBean & Co. The stained rattan table is made by Tropical Sun Co., designed by Jerry Johnson. It has a formica top. (Oranges are California products also.)

The colorful yellow and orange library table has wood top, with metal frame. It was designed and made by Van Keppel-Green. The fabric is hand loomed, a combination of linen, nylon, rayon and cotton—a product of Webb Textiles. The light pewter-glazed urn was created by Paul Barsbe. The ceramic horse was designed and made by Betty Vella. The red vase is the work of Linda Nickey.
